Translated by H. Balasubramaniam

Pp.584, First Edition 2005, Reprint 2007, ISBN 81-260-1909-3, Rs.275

This book provides food for thought for all those who really feel such appetite and thirst for knowledge of theory and poetics.

The learned author, in this huge volume, treads through the unending theory-lands of Asia, Middle-East, Europe and America and moves further in describing the complex concepts and literary theories such as Structuralism, Post-Structuralism, Deconstruction, Marxism, Reader-oriented Criticism, Post-Modernism, Neo-Historicism, etc. with their intricacies and nuances, after duly assimilating them with a sense of social consciousness.

This book was originally written in Urdu. H. Balasubramaniam translated the work into Tamil with the same spirit and fervour as that of the author. For providing a substantial book of such magnitude and range to the Tamil literary world, that also in a simple and lucid style, one has to appreciate the author, the translator, and the publisher Sahitya Akademi.
